

English

Hmong

Main Idea

4 LS 2.a 4 LS 2.b 4 LS 2.c

Food chains describe the flow of energy among living things in an environment. A complete food chain includes producers, consumers, and decomposers.

Niam Tswvyim

4 LS 2.a 4 LS 2.b 4 LS 2.c

Zaub mov xa tawm qhia kev ntab ntwis ntawm lub zog nyob hauv tsavyam muaj siav ntawm ib cheebtsam. Ib lwm zob mov sib txuas yog cov tswv tsim, cov siv, thiab cov rhuav.

A food chain is made of producers, consumers, and decomposers. (pp. 38–39)

Ib hom zaub mov sib txuas txawm los ntawm cov tswv tsim, cov siv, thiab cov rhuav. (pp. 38–39)

Consumers can be herbivores, carnivores, or omnivores. (pp. 40–43)

Cov siv yog tau cov tsiaj noj zaub, cov noj nqaij, lossis cov noj ob yam. (pp. 40–43)

Decomposers break down organisms that are no longer living. (pp. 44–45)

Cov rhuav tsoo cov noob siav uas tsis muaj siav lawd. (pp. 44–45)