

English

Hmong

Main Idea

4 ES 5.a 4 ES 5.c

Earth’s surface is always changing. It is shaped and reshaped by water, waves, wind, and ice. Changes that occur to land can take place slowly or quickly.

Niam Tswvyim

4 ES 5.a 4 ES 5.c

Daim npoo Niam Av hloov tsis so. Nws raug hloov thiab rov hloov raws dej, nthwv dej, cua, thiab dej khov. Kev hloov ntawm av txawm qeeb qeeb lossis ceev ceev tau.

Erosion and weathering are processes that usually change landforms slowly. (pp. 214–215)

Kev kuav thiab kev tuav rau ntuab ntug yog ob hom txheejtxheem keev ua rau tej txheej av hloov zuj zus. (pp. 214–215)

Water, waves, and wind weather and erode Earth’s surface. (pp. 216–221)

Dej, nthwv dej, thiab cua tuav thiab kuav daim npoo Niam Av. (pp. 216–221)

Glaciers shape the land as they move over it. (p. 222)

Roob daus hloov tau daim av thaum lawv txav mus los. (p. 222)