

	English	Hmong
	Main Idea Plants and animals are made of cells. Cells are the smallest units that can carry out life processes.	Niam Tswvyim Nroj tsuag thiab tsiaj txawm los ntawm cov noob nqaij. Noob nqaij yog cov ntsiav me tshaj uas nthuav tau hlab siav tawm.
	All living things are made of cells, which are the smallest unit of a living thing that can carry out the basic processes of life. (pp. 26-27)	Txhua tsavyam muaj siav txawm los ntawm cov noob nqaij, uas yog cov ntsiav me tshaj ntawm ib yam khoom ciaj siav kws nthuav tau cov hlab tseemceeb ntawm txoj siav tawm. (pp. 26-27)
	Animal cells and plant cells have structures that work together to keep the cell alive. Plant cells have some different structures than animal cells. (p. 27)	Cov noob nqaij tsiaj thiab nroj tsuag muaj hajkhawv ua haujlwm uake los khaws kom cov ntsiav ciaj siav tau. Cov noob nqaij nroj tsuag muaj tej cov hajkhawv txawv tsiaj cov. (p. 27)
	Microscopes magnify tiny objects and can be used to study cells. (p. 32)	Tshuab microscope nthuav cov khoom me me kom loj tuaj thiab siv tau los kawm txog cov noob nqaij. (p. 32)