

English

Hmong

Main Idea 5 ES 3.e; 5ES 3.d
 The fresh water you use comes either from running water, standing water, or ground water.

Niam Tswvyim
 5 ES 3.e; 5ES 3.d
 Cov dej ntshiab nej siv los ntawm dej ntws, dej tauv, lossis dej qhov av.

Most of California's precipitation falls in the north. (pp. 216–217)

Feem ntau ntawm California cov dej nag poob sab qaum teb. (pp. 216–217)

A system of aqueducts, reservoirs, and dams helps to supply dry areas of California with water. (pp. 218–219)

Ib tus txheejtxheem ntawm cov dej tuam, dej pas, thiab dej tauv pab txhawb dej rau cov cheebtsam qhuav hauv California. (pp. 218–219)

Water conservation can help Californians meet their needs for fresh water. (p. 220)

Kev txuag dej pab tau neeg California cuag lawv txoj kev siv dej ntshiab. (p. 220)